

Co-Organizers:

Sharing on Green Procurement and Paint Knowledge

Date : 17 January 2019 (Thursday)
Venue : Lecture Room HJ302, Hong Kong Polytechnic University, Hung Hom
Time : 19:00 – 20:30; Registration at 18:30

Programme Highlights

When it comes to paint coating in a project, it could be one of the most insignificant materials to be considered as it simply presents the texture and color to the public with no brand disclosure as an outcome.

However, as these thin layers surround you all, how much do you know about it?

What else can it be done to help you enhance efficiency and eliminate unwanted problems?

How can paint imitate stone texture and how to applicate in reality?

Understanding the component of the paint can let you know their properties and avoid common defects. We will be sharing common causes with you and discuss about the sustainable solution.

The growing concern in the environmental friendliness concern, how can paint be part of the contributor for BEAM Plus and fulfil the VOC regulation in an extend level?

And sharing with you the latest new breakthrough in paint technology.
